This Is Your Chance To Support Our Financial Goals

*By Jack Fowler
Class of 1952*

HELLO. HELLO. Is anybody out there? Are you really out there? We can't hear you!

This is what it feels like when we've asked for help on the Fresno High School Alumni Board. We have lost some members to health and other issues. We really need some help, especially from the younger classes. Every class should be represented. We are proud of what we have accomplished with so few board members. Right now we are in need of a Class Reunion Coordinator. We know that there are talented people in the alumni out there, so please help us in keeping the legacy of Fresno High School alive. We meet the second Wednesday of every month at Fresno High School at 5:30 P.M. We hope that you can make it to help with the FHS Alumni Dinner, The Wall of Champions Dinner and other planned events,

We thank everyone that has faithfully supported the Alumni Association. All donations are tax deductible.

Please attend this year's Alumni Dinner on May 3, 2014. The campus is beautiful with the new administration and library buildings. We hope to see you there. Check the website www.FresnoHighAlumni.com for information on upcoming class reunions and other events.

Principal's Message

By Dr. John Forbes

Spring is here and it is an absolute joy to see our students enjoying our new Warrior Park, the plaza in front of Royce Hall. The impact was immediate. Students sat on the grass, reading and talking. Friends went to the front of Royce Hall and took pictures (I think these are called "Selfies"). When asked how they felt about our Warrior Park, common responses were, "It makes this feel like a college campus." "It's beautiful and makes me happy to be here." "I love it". These are phrases of students who are proud of their school. We see this translate to our students' achievement in academics, athletics and the arts.

Academically, we continue to build a culture of high expectations and push students beyond what they thought possible. I wouldn't be where I am without adults who told me to raise the expectations for myself. This senior class is seeing academic success, being accepted into highly competitive universities across the U.S. I just received word of three acceptances to Cal Poly San Luis Obispo and twelve students to UC Davis. We are awaiting the final results for the entire senior class, but early indications are clear that our students are rising to the occasion - and overcoming the odds of being the first in their family to go to college.

A 2013 graduate now at UCLA was on campus Friday to pick up his IB Full Diploma. I asked him how he benefitted from attending Fresno High. He said he has a high level of confidence because of the high level of writing he did at Fresno High. He consistently outperforms his peers at UCLA this year.

Our student athletes have also had a great year. The recent boys' basketball Valley Championship resulted from hard work, teamwork, and perseverance through hard obstacles. Of note, we faced a very talented Roosevelt team at Selland Arena in the championship game. Coming from an 8-point deficit mid-way through the third quarter, the team went into the final quarter up by 4. As a packed student section cheered on, our Warriors held on to win. Our whole school enjoyed this moment together. Thank you for all the alumni who came to cheer us on. It was evident from the purple in the arena that we were well represented. Congratulations to Coach Wafer, our pep and cheer squad, our student body, and our athletes.

Last Monday, Fresno High's music department hosted the district-wide concert band festival. This event involved judging each school's performance in front of all the other schools. All three judges of our band were impressed, saying, "This is the best we've heard from the Fresno High band in years." Kudos go to our band director, Matt Okumoto, our band parents, and the students who have worked so hard.

Come out and enjoy our next public performance of the Spring Musical - dates are April 3, 4, 5 and 10, 11 and 12. Curtain rises at 7:00 P.M.

Upcoming projects at Fresno High include:

- refreshing our technology labs and classroom laptops
- implementing the second year of an Engineering Pathway project through Project Lead the Way (www.pltw.org)
- building more connections with our feeder elementary and middle schools. The entire Fresno High Region is benefiting our growth.

Thank you, all alumni, for your support throughout the years. Our current staff and students are working hard to build on the legacy and tradition of Fresno High. We could not do this work without your investment, encouragement and involvement. Thank you!

Warm Regards,

John Forbes, Ed.D., Principal,
THE Fresno High School

Reminiscing with Bernice Dyck Class of 1936

By Bob Reyes (Newsletter Editor)

Bernice and her dog Shotzie

What was it like when you entered Fresno High? I grew up near Armenian town in southeast Fresno in the shadow of the famous Sun Maid Raisin Plant. This was following the "Great Depression" and times were tough. Leaving Longfellow Jr. High school on Huntington Boulevard in February of 1934 and entering Fresno High School was a challenge. Without much public transportation, I was stymied as to which high school I would attend. The new Roosevelt High School was closest, but I had no transportation. Consequently, I walked from S. 3rd Street to the beginning (or end - depends on how you look at it) of Fulton Street to the streetcar line (filled with Fresno High students like myself) and rode the streetcar until it stopped at University Avenue so I could attend Fresno High School.

How were you promoted at the semester? When I was at Winchell Elementary, I skipped a half year of one of the lower grades which put me in mid-semester classes. Back then you could enter high school at mid-semester and then graduate 3 years later in the middle of the year.

What was high school like for you? I felt I never really got caught up at my 14 years of age (I turned 15 the following October). I found the academic courses beyond me but fell right in with the mandatory P.E. and drama classes. In Latin, Algebra, Biology, and English, I suffered. But give me action classes and I was happy. The drama teacher, "Ma" Harbors, was wonderful. I participated in many plays — along with one notable future celebrity to be, the late Ross Bagdasarian of "Alvin and the Chipmunks" fame.

What was the area around the school like? The Fresno High School neighborhood is now considered the Tower District - but in the 1930's, it was a more elite neighborhood with students from more affluent families. They dressed better, had more family support, had better study habits, and lived closer to school than the 45-minute streetcar ride and 30 minute walk home I had to endure. I felt underprivileged and MUCH TOO YOUNG.

What activities do you remember at the school? Once in awhile we had a guest speaker. Sometimes the speaker spoke at lunch, during a study period, or after school. We were usually 25-30 in each group. We had no mentor in high school — they did not do that. But one saving grace was the two campus social groups - Hypatia and Portia. The Portias were a more affluent group than the Hypatias, but I thought being a Hypatia was the "most" in my book. Also, not related to campus activities, there were a couple "high school" sororities. (Later banned I understand.) I joined the Aonias which was an off-campus high school sorority made up of Fresno and Roosevelt students. It was there that I tasted my first cup of coffee at a "tea" affair. In those school days there were no campus classes on good morals, social graces, behavior and, of course, no SEX CLASSES — taboo to even mention in those "puritanical" days. I learned social graces by being an Aonian and to this day appreciate Mrs. King, a socialite, whose spouse owned the famous King Grocery chain of the thirties. Mrs. King was a stickler on manners, morals, and how to behave as a young lady. Social graces in my home within my family were not talked about. Our family was too busy trying to keep the bread and beans on the table, I guess.

When did you graduate from Fresno High? Entering as a mid-term student meant a February 1937 graduating class. But luckily I had been an office helper and earned special points and it was suggested that I graduate in June of 1936 which I did. I joined the class of 1936 and was able to graduate from the bleachers out on the front lawn in front of the famous Royce Hall (in the street, of course, instead of in the auditorium of Royce Hall). If you graduated in February, it was too cold to hold graduation in front of the school so they would hold it inside Royce Hall. I remember at graduation walking through the junior class girls who built a chain of fresh daises. The Fresno High Daisy Chain was already a tradition before I graduated in 1936.

So what was the social life like back in your high school days?

My social life and my dating? Well, the best any of the guys could afford was hanging out at one of the drive-ins. MALLS — they were unheard of. Once in awhile we would go for a hamburger at Olive Inn (at Olive and Van Ness) and at the Mars Drive-in way out on Belmont. Hamburgers were 15 cents back then and a movie (Warnors, Wilson, and Kinema) were 10 cents unless your date was a movie usher and in that case the movie was free. Yeah, and a little cuddling when the lights were low.

So how did you meet your future husband?

The school "YELL LEADER", Harry Dyck, was the cutest fellow I had ever seen. The school had one yell leader and only one person led all the cheers for assemblies and sporting events. There were no cheer leaders. My favorite yell was the old "double F" yell. It was two years later before Harry and I dated - and three years before we married. Harry came from a single parent home and went from Hamilton Jr. High to Fresno High which gave him an acquaintance with more students. We often discuss the advantages the young people have now that we didn't have. And even in those depression days we knew we envied those more affluent students from the better community. There was no tutoring to speak of unless you were destined to be headed to college — which many of us were not.

What are the main differences that you see between school back in the 1930's and school now?

What was different now from then so far as academic classes are concerned is that the training for becoming a teacher has improved. Teachers now assume a more personal awareness of ethnicity (we had one black in 1936 at Fresno High School). I was left to drift, graduating in June of 1936 at the age of 16 and not turning 17 until the following October. We had little to no personal interaction with the staff. We had one Dean of Girls and one Dean of Boys. These were the only people who might talk to you one on one, or in my case, for reprimanding.

What type of advice would you give today's Fresno High students?

Take advantage of what the school has to offer. Realize that you have advantages that other people don't have.

Scholarship Updates

By Bob Reyes (Newsletter Editor)

Makayla Quinn (Class of 2013) Freshman at University of Pacific: "I did fairly well last semester and have a 3.45 Grade Point Average. I am now officially a double major in International Relations and Political Science. My classes have been rigorous and interesting, The School of International Studies has offered me a great deal of classes that discuss cultural diversity and evaluate the world in different perspectives. I have loved my experience at UOP, and I just recently joined Delta Gamma, a social sorority. On my free time I also volunteered at a senior citizen home in the area, where I ran their social programming. I am still trying to create my home away from home here and find my ground.

"Thank you, Mr. Reyes and the Fresno High Alumni Association. I really appreciate your support. The scholarship this semester helped with my expenses at school. Specifically, it aided me with the costs for my online interactive memberships that were required for my classes, along with my books. The honor of being, what I refer to as a Bob Reyes Scholar, is a constant inspiration to me during my academic career. It is a consistent reminder to be determined, diligent, and a leader - to me it is a lifelong honor. Let me know if there is anything I can do to help the Alumni Association. On another note, I am returning to Fresno over the summer and I am looking for internships in the area; if you hear of any opportunities, I would love to know."

"Dear Fresno High School Alumni, I would like to take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude for choosing me as the alumni scholarship recipient in 2012. The scholarship went towards my books and supplies for my very first semester and helped me start college on a very positive financial note. My second year at Fresno State will be coming to a close in the next few months and I cannot believe that I am so close to graduating...again! Starting at Fresno State in the Fall of 2012 was anything but easy. I began as a Biology major looking to go into the medical field and soon learned that I did not enjoy the subject as much as I had hoped. Throughout high school I was convinced that becoming a brain surgeon was the only path for me, but Fresno State and the Smittcamp Family Honors College helped me realize that changing would not be so bad. I quickly shifted gears and started a mad search for the right major, one that I could truly enjoy and love. It came back to my foundation here at Fresno High. I had taken four years of Latin, and I absolutely loved studying Classics with Mrs. Spencer. I did my research and through many meetings, paperwork, and chasings of department chairs finally created my own personal major at Fresno State. I am now currently declared an Interdisciplinary Humanities and Classics Major. A degree in the Humanities can open the door for many jobs in terms of the work force, but I plan to go into education with my major. I have yet to decide the specifics, but I plan to continue into graduate school and earn my PhD. I hope to either be a high school principal and continue onto superintendent or be a Humanities and Classics professor. I guess you could say that I will follow in the family tradition of being educators. As for now I am part of the Smittcamp Honors College, and three different honors societies on campus: Sigma Alpha Lambda, Golden Key International, and National Society of Collegiate Scholars. I volunteer weekly with the Circle of Friends Program at Hinds Hospice and maintain part time jobs."

Devinne Vaughn (Class of 2011): Junior year at UC Santa Cruz. Anthropology major. Works for Fresno Parks and Recreation as a Fitness Coach during the summer.

Class of 1954 60th Reunion

May 2nd and 3rd of this year will be your last and best chance to meet and spend a few hours with your friends and classmates from 60 years ago! Yes, this will be the last planned Reunion of the Class of 1954, so come and reunite with old friends you may not even recognize! We expect a big turnout and lots of fun!

Friday evening we'll have an informal get-together at the Crown Room, Piccadilly Inn on West Shaw, with a no-host bar and hearty hors d'oeuvres. Cost of this event is $45.

Saturday morning join us for a charter bus tour that includes the new Fresno High School campus buildings, Fresno City College, Tower District, Chukchansi AAA Baseball Park, Fresno State Campus and Library, and several other sites that have changed a lot in the last 60 years. We will have a narrator from the Fresno Convention Center to give us some history and information. Cost of this event is $25.

The Saturday evening banquet is the big event! Social hour is at six, and dinner is served at seven, with your choice of entrée. Bring pictures or other keepsakes to share, if you like, and enjoy the evening! Cost of this event is $45.

For additional information call Roy Spina, 559-297-1041 or Jonelle Geringer Anderson, 559-877-7105.

Thoughts from 1947

*By Al Fox
Class of 1947*

I was in the class of '47 and was not known for any scholastic achievements. I was in the Senate (Fox of Colorado), and I was senior Class Vice-President and played cornet in the school bands.

When I was at Fresno High School and complained to our principal, Erwin Dann, about the fence that was put around the school, it stayed. I remember when those two fortresses were erected on the front lawn. Revolting! I remember my sister's 1936 graduation on the front lawn. Formal dress for the girls and white coats for the boys. The World War I babies! It was the biggest class for years, larger than mine.

But I'm happy to hear those fortresses no longer exist. In this day of school desecration, a moat filled with crocodiles may have to be built to keep out the bad guys that get their kicks mutilating and destroying school property. Times have really changed.

Yearbooks, Yearbooks, Yearbooks

*By Jackie Garo Boyajian
Class of 1960*

Here I am again-----your Year Book advertiser. I receive emails and phone calls from so many looking for their books from their year of graduation or even all three years of high school. I always feel so bad when I cannot fulfill their wishes or dreams of having those memories back in their hands. The older we get – the more those memories of our youth means to us. Let me know if I've hit the sweet spot for you. Personally, I love to go through those books from the 20's and 30's. They are a great source of history. The cost of each yearbook sold is a donation that goes directly back to the school for the current students. For the most part the cost is around $50, depending on the condition of the book. Here's my current list of books on hand:

1920's: 1926 (1)

1930's: 1931 (2); 1933 (3); 1934 (1); 1935 (1); 1936 (1); 1938 (1)

1950's: 1955 (2); 1956 (4); 1959 (2)

1960's: 1960 (2); 1963 (1); 1968 (2)

1970's: 1972 (Reprint); 1974 (2); 1975 (2); 1976 (1); 1979 (2)

1980's: 1980 (2); 1984 (1); 1989 (2) (1 is vintage)

1990's: 1990 (1); 1993 (1)

I also have a 1954 Washington Jr. High – Clarion.

Reprint: The 1972 reprint is one that was purchased through a company that reprints yearbooks – maybe Classmates.com

Please let me know if you have yearbooks on hand that you wish to donate to us. We are happy to be able to offer them to former students. As always – PROUD TO BE A WARRIOR!!!

Freedom Riders Exhibition A Success

By Sue Navarro (Fresno High Librarian)

The Freedom Riders exhibition featured in the Fresno High Library in January 2014 was visited by over 1600 individuals, including students, staff members, families, alumni and community members. This exhibition was brought to us through a very generous donation. The Fresno High Alumni Association granted the library the complete cost for shipping the exhibition to our site. After viewing the exhibition, hundreds of students wrote their names on our "wall" committing to non-violence and anti-hatred.

The Freedom Riders exhibition provided an opportunity for our students to critically consider the events of the 1960's and how these events affect us today. The Deep South during 1961 was a place of profound bigotry, violence and hatred. It was for this reason that a brave group of people took action to shine a spotlight on bigotry by stepping on the bus and becoming a "Freedom Rider." This exhibition told their story.

Students were advised that during the exhibition they would see and hear things that would make them uncomfortable, that this would not be an easy exhibition to view. After watching a part of the documentary, engaging in interactive computer activities on the issues, and viewing the panels, students were encouraged to sign our "Could you get on the bus?" wall, making a commitment to non-violence and equality. Several hundred FHS students made this pledge.

Here are 2 student quotes from the Freedom Riders exhibition:

Andrew Rivera:

"The Freedom Riders exhibition showed me that if you believe in something, work hard and follow through on what you believe in, even if you fail, you can get up and try again and eventually succeed."

Selina Falcon:

"I thought this exhibition was excellent. It gave me a whole new perspective and outlook on the Civil Rights movement, which I wouldn't have gotten in a regular history class."

Takeo Kunishige, Class of 1936

*By Bob Reyes
(Newsletter Editor)*

(I received this email message regarding the passing of Takeo Kunishige from his son.)

Mr. Reyes,

We received your April 2013 Warrior Newsletter which asked for updates on older alumni. My father, Takeo (Tak) Kunishige, class of 1936, passed away October 14, 2012, at the age of 95. He was one of the great athletes to play at Fresno High. Teamed with Toby Lawless in football, his speed and elusive running success earned him the title of "The Galloping Ghost of Fresno High". He also excelled on the track team still holding one of the old hurdles records, and on the basketball team. (Coach Trombetta wouldn't let the football players play baseball.)

Though the war disconnected my dad from Fresno for many years, he returned in the late 1960's and started a successful new business (Dai Ichi Restaurants) from which he retired at age 88. Dad remained a remarkable athlete throughout his life, shooting his age at Fig Garden Golf Course at age 78.

He was always proud of his Fresno High heritage and his opportunity to be part of the school's remarkable history.

Toby Kunishige Harrison

We Need Volunteers

*By Judie Lane
Class of 1962*

You've all read some good articles in these Alumni Newsletters explaining many of the benefits our unique Alumni Association does for our favorite high school. Have you ever considered volunteering one evening a month to join the committee? We want to see this organization continue along while Fresno High is thriving for at least another 125 years!

New ideas and new members will ensure that the Alumni organization's main goals will continue to help students, organizations, clubs, etc. and continue to hold an Annual All Alumni Dinner event in front of FHS, so that any alumni from each and every year of Fresno High will be able to gather, see one another again, and have fun.

New officers will need to be elected from time to time to ensure that new ideas will keep up with the times and will continue on indefinitely along with the school and all future students.

Can you spare one evening for 2 hours a month? Currently, our meetings are on the 2nd Wednesday of each month. Join our friendly committee of co-alumni, have fun, help keep up with requests and vote and have an input on the future things to come for Fresno High School. You never know when an idea may pop into your mind.

We are looking for all alumni, whether graduated after 2000 or before then, whether recent or long-time former Fresno High alumni. All years are encouraged to join the Alumni group. Your contributions are a great help. To participate or contact us: http://www.fresnohighalumni.com/contact\_email.asp.

FHS Military Veterans

By Jim Doyle (1967)

We are assembling a list of Fresno High alumni who are military veterans. If you are a proud member or have served at one time or another in the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force, Coast Guard or National Guard, we would like to know who you are. We are also interested in knowing past family members (who also are FHS alumni) who have served with pride. Can you imagine if we can find an FHS graduate who served in the Spanish American War? It is possible, you know.

The landscaping is complete in Warrior Park (the open area in front of Royce Hall) and the risers are set where the plans are to place memorial plaques. If you are interested in having a small memorial placed on these landscaping risers, please send your name, address, phone, email, year of graduation, branch of service and time served to Jim Doyle, Class of 1967. Email address is 11bravojim@gmail.com and phone number is 559-222-2203.
